Hypericum androsaemum

'Albury Purple'

St. John's Wort

The reddish-purple leaves are larger than those of our other Hypericums, and at 3', this round, bushy semi-evergreen plant can serve as a distinctive border shrub, as a hedge, or even as an effective ground cover for a large area. The clusters of small yellow flowers in early summer are a good contrast to the leaves. Contrast with Geranium s. 'Album' and Heuchera 'Autumn Bride'.

Plant 18" apart.

Zones 5 - 8

Hypericum calycinum

St. John's Wort

Truly a low maintenance ground cover with the bonus of 3" bright golden flowers that first appear in June. A quick-growing thick green carpet reaches 15-18" high and will spread to 18-24" in one season. Try this great performer on a bare slope or bank. It tolerates poor soils, full sun or partial shade. Use with Rudbeckia 'Little Goldstar' and Aster 'Wood's Blue'.

Iris ensata 'Katy Mendez'

Japanese Iris

'Katy Mendez' brings a bold presence to the garden with deep violet flowers on 34 - 38" tall stems in late spring to early summer. The violet-purple falls have narrow white edges and patches of yellow near the center. This fantastic cut flower grows best in moist locations with full sun and prefers its roots to be shaded by other perennials.

Plant 24" apart.

Zones 5 - 9

Iris ensata

'Moonlight Waves'

Japanese Iris

Pond edges and moist borders welcome these glowing white blooms to soften bold colors or to compliment pale pinks and blues. Clumps of sword-shaped foliage prefer moist to wet soil during the growing season but are unlikely to survive emersion in water during the winter. Grows to 24-36" tall and blooms in late spring to early summer.

Leptinella x 'Platt's Black'
Brass Buttons
The miniature leaves of dark bronze and green have a fern-like appearance and form a mat soft enough for a fairy to nap on. At only 2" in height the tiny foliage is ideal for filling in cracks and crevices, or planting between stones or in the rock garden. Petite yellow flowers are produced in spring. Provide afternoon shade and average moisture.

Leucanthemum x 'Becky'

Shasta Daisy

Perennial Plant of the Year® 2003

Big, strong, familiar white daisies with the yellow center bloom for many weeks during July and August up to 36". Shiny green leaves complement the flowers that never need staking. While average well-drained soil is fine, remember that good winter drainage is also important. It's hard to think of a happier bloom in your mid-summer fresh-cut arrangements, or nodding in a sunny border. Plant 18" apart.

Leucanthemum x superbum 'Madonna'

Dwarf Shasta Daisy

A new introduction for 2020, this seed variety has a uniform habit and a very strong bloom performance. Pure white flowers with yellow centers are produced on top of fading flowers from summer to fall. Dark green foliage grows 10-12" tall, our shortest variety offered. A perfect companion to so many summer blooming perennials.

Plant 15" apart.

Liatris spicata 'Floristan White'

White Gay Feather

Some of the many virtues of this native will surely fit your requirements. This is the white version with numerous tall spikes 24-30" that open their flowers from the top down in July and August. It thrives in most any type of soil, handles drought, is a butterfly magnet, and is beautiful in the border or by the waterside. Foliage has deep shiny green grass-like leaves.
Plant 24" apart.

Zones 5 - 9

Liatris spicata 'Kobold'

Purple Gay Feather

Imagine the rosy purple spikes of this Liatris grouped in the border. All the characteristics apply that we described for 'Floristan White', but in a striking purple that combines beautifully with oranges and strong blues. Grows 24-30" tall. Maintenance free and a butterfly magnet, it never needs dividing. Just cut back.

Ligularia dentata 'Desdemona'

Ligularia

Leaves and flowers are both remarkable on this big, handsome plant for waterside or moist border. The large leaves are bronzy-green on the top and purple underneath. Orange-yellow daisy-like flowers in August can be nearly 3" across with brown centers. The branching stems grow to 3' and are sturdy enough not to need staking. Prefers part shade to do its best. Plant 18" apart.

Ligularia dentata 'Pandora'

Ligularia / Dwarf Golden Ray

Dark purple glossy leaves in spring and early summer are smaller and the foliage is more compact than 'Desdemona' allowing it to fit in tight spaces or containers. The 12-14" tall foliage ages to dark olive-green by mid-summer and compliments Japanese Painted Ferns, Hosta and Carex. Golden yellow flowers appear in mid-summer. PPAF Plant 15" apart.
